Hale Unduwadi Project capacity now 900 MLD

MP Pratap Simha, MLA G.T. Devegowda and other officials inspecting the Hale Unduwadi Drinking Water Project site this morning.

IISc. scientists recommend increase in volume from 300 MLD to 900 MLD

Mysuru, Jan. 27 (PM&BCT)- The capacity of Rs. 545-crore Hale Unduwadi Drinking Water Project that is on in full swing has been increased from the present 300 Million Litres per Day (MLD) to 900 MLD based on the suggestions from scientists from the Indian Institute of Science, Bengaluru. Works are on as per IISc. recommendations.

The project aims at supplying drinking water to Mysuru City and 92 villages around it. The first phase of the project is being taken up at an estimated cost of Rs. 350 crore while remaining funds will be released in stages.

The original project aimed at supplying 300 MLD water from River Cauvery in addition to the 250 MLD being supplied to the city at present. Based on the IISc. recommendations, the capacity has been increased to 900 MLD keeping in mind certain project technicalities, cost viability and also to cater to the future needs.

In their visit to the project site this morning, Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha and Chamundeshwari MLA G.T. Devegowda said that the project was intended to be implemented in three phases. While the jackwell and stilling basin had the capacity of 300 MLD, the draught canal had a capacity of 900 MLD.

The Karnataka Urban Water Supply and Drainage Board (KUWS&DB) submitted the project for technical suggestions to the IISc. where suggestions were made to increase the capacity of jackwell and stilling basin to 900 MLD (full capacity) instead of the existing 300 MLD.

Water seepage from KRS Dam a daunting task

Mysuru, Jan. 27 (PM&BCT)- A record amount of rocks have been extracted during deep earth digging to implement the Hale Unduwadi Drinking Water Project. As such, there is continuous seepage of water from the Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Dam.

This year, the maximum storage at KRS Dam has crossed more than 55 continuous days and as such the pressure of water is more and there is seepage into the Hale Unduwadi water project site. Workers and site engineers are constantly draining out excess water and this is proving to be a challenging task.

Despite this hurdle, the progress of the project is remarkable, said MP Pratap Simha and MLA G.T. Devegowda who visited the project site this morning.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

A healthy relationship between the judiciary and media, two of the four pillars of democracy, is logically necessary for the health of democracy. But what precisely does health mean in this context? Speaking at a journalism awards function, Chief Justice of India N.V. Ramana, who incidentally started his professional career as a journalist, expressed worry about how news and views are being mixed together into a dangerous cocktail today, as also about the "recent trend to sermonise about judgments, and villainise judges." The separation of news and views is actually an essential guardrail for newspapers, so we couldn't agree more on this. But on the second point, we urge the judiciary to be less prickly about criticism, including when not just judgments but judges too are criticised. Part of the media's job is to report on and analyse and, in its opinion columns, criticise not just political leaders but all powerful players in the system — from the Police to Armed Forces and Judges to Corporates. Courts adjudicate on the widest variety of cases of citizen interest, and plenty of reporting and commentary naturally follows. Judges should take criticism as politicians do — it's a part of their job description in a democracy. And, in the same spirit, the Supreme Court must decriminalise what is termed as 'scandalising the court'. This provision doesn't sit well in a democracy. — In The Times of India

Docs remove part of man's skull

California: A man in California has reportedly lost part of his skull due to excessive consumption of energy drinks.

In a post, a woman named Brianna explained how excessive energy drink consumption led to her husband's nearly fatal brain haemorrhage.

Brianna wrote that her husband, Austin, began to consume energy drinks when he started working long hours and commuting. This eventually proved life-threatening when Austin had an accident and went into coma. After conducting a toxicology screening and ruling out drugs, doctors suggested that excessive energy drink consumption was the source of the problems. Austin endured a number of brain surgeries, as well as unexpected strokes, seizures, and swelling of the brain. It was presumably during these surgeries that doctors remove the frontal portion of his skull.

'Dirtiest' man hasn't bathed in 67 years!

Iran: Amou Haji, an 83-year-old Iranian is labelled as the world's dirtiest man as he has not bathed from past 67 years. Haji is terrified of water, thus the aversion to bathing. He believes he'll fall sick if he bathes and this has stopped him from taking a shower in over six decades. Life in the Iranian desert, with rotting porcupine meat as his favourite meal, is the one that he is accustomed to. To stay healthy he drinks five litres of water from a rusty oil can every day.

He also loves to smoke but his style of smoking involves inhaling dried cow dung instead of tobacco. Locals believe that a broken heart was the reason that he chose this lifestyle. However, he still hasn't given up on finding love. Haji has no home, he wanders near the isolated village of Dejgah in the Southern Iranian province of Fars and lives in holes made in the desert outside the village. Although the villagers built a hut for him but he chose not to live there.

He has become almost the same colour as the earth around him and he totally blends in with his environment. Locals say they often mistake him for a rock when he stays still.

Give 'mukti' to places where death rituals are held

Sir,

I recently lost my uncle, an eminent Scientist. The cremation was held at Gokulam crematorium and subsequent ceremonies at Shantivana near JSS Hospital and immersion of ashes at Pashchima Vahini in Srirangapatna.

The whole process was appalling because of the physical condition of these three places.

The worst place was Pashchima Vahini where it was extremely dirty with improper steps and no proper way to reach the water, to immerse the ashes especially for senior citizen like me and people with some physical disability.

Similarly, Shantivana had almost 15-16 steps directly from the road with a small parking for 2-wheelers only and the general area was unkempt. The concrete benches provided were balanced on blocks and shaky all the time. Upon request some chairs were provided.

The Gokulam crematorium area had no proper parking and had rusted metal benches.

Why do we need to keep important areas of Hindu religious custom in such a bad shape? Our ancient scriptures had said that death is a "mukti," a relief from this world and is a cause for celebration. I propose that we the citizens of Mysuru get together and enhance these places.

I am willing to volunteer my services to clean these areas and make them safe and beautified for Hindu death rituals. I hope that the authorities concerned and our Mysureans will think about this positively.

I am confident that the current generation will appreciate a serene and clean place.

Yuvaraja College students accuse Mysore University of not issuing degree certificates

Mysuru, Jan. 27- Students of Yuvaraja College in city, who graduated two years ago, have alleged that the University of Mysore (UoM) is yet to issue degree certificates to them.

In a press statement, the students said that though they graduated out of the College in 2019, the UoM is yet to issue degree certificates to them, which has caused them a lot of inconvenience.

Maintaining that they have paid the stipulated fee for the purpose, the students said that the University authorities are not responsive to their plight. Pointing out that the University and Yuvaraja College authorities are blaming each other for the delay, they contended that they are forced to pay the fees again.

Urging the University Registrar to take action against the concerned authorities, they demanded that the University issue degree certificates to all qualified students of Yuvaraja College.

UoM clarifies

Meanwhile, the UoM has clarified that there is no procedural lapse on the part of the University.

Dr. Jnana Prakash

UoM Registrar (Evaluation) Dr. A.P. Jnana Prakash told Star of Mysore that Yuvaraja College is an autonomous College and as such the students should apply for their degree certificates at the College itself and not directly to the University. Pointing out that the University will issue degrees after gathering all details, including payment of fees, Prof. Jnana Prakash attributed the delay either due to delayed application from students or communication gap between the University and the College.

Maintaining that the University will collect a surcharge of Rs.240 from each student for delay of applications as per the rule, he said that the surcharge will be credited directly to the University account. Reiterating that the University cannot be blamed for the delay in the issuance of degree certificates, he said that the students themselves have to take the blame for their delay in submission of application forms. There is no procedural or administrative lapses on the part of the University in the issuance of degree certificates to Yuvaraja College students, he contended.

Mysuru to be included in Smart City scheme

Bengaluru, Jan. 27 (KMS & BCT)- Urban Development Minister Byrathi Basavaraj said that the royal city of Mysuru would be included in Smart City scheme as it is eligible for the project.

"We have written to the Centre seeking inclusion of Mysuru, Kalaburagi, Ballari and Vijayapura in the list of smart cities and I have personally held consultations with Union Urban Affairs Minister Hardip Singh Puri during my recent visit to Lucknow," he said.

The Minister was speaking to reporters in Bengaluru recently after reviewing the progress of smart cities work. He said that the projects were on track despite the COVID-19 pandemic.

Smart City is a unique programme that has been implemented in the country for the first time. It was conceived soon after Modi Government took office in May 2014 and it was announced in June 2015. The idea was to use technology to introduce ease of living and inclusive and sustainable development.

Mysuru had missed out an opportunity of development while seven other cities in Karnataka like Bengaluru, Tumakuru, Belagavi, Shivamogga, Davanagere, Hubballi-Dharwad and Mangaluru were seeing large-scale development.

Though Mysuru was eligible to be a Smart City, it lost out as it did not fully utilise the 80 percent of JnNURM funds. Also, the Mysuru City Corporation failed to do a local audit from 2007 and this deprived the city of a slot under Smart Cities Mission, sources said.

73rd Republic Day: District Minister unfurls Tricolour

Govt. focussing on development despite pandemic, says S.T. Somashekar

Mysuru, Jan.27 - District Minister S.T. Somashekar said here on Wednesday that development works is going on at a brisk pace despite the COVID pandemic.

He was speaking at the 73rd Republic Day celebrations, organised by the District Administration, after unfurling the National Flag and reviewing the parade at the Bannimantap Torchlight Parade grounds here.

Maintaining that not withstanding the fight against the pandemic, the Government had not ignored development and the district was making brisk progress on various fronts, Somashekar said that the administration was fully prepared to handle any eventuality that may arise from the third wave.

Vaccination coverage

Pointing out that COVID vaccination drive in Mysuru district has covered 88 percent of the total eligible population, he said that all efforts were being made to check the spread of the pandemic.

Asserting that the first dosage of vaccination has covered 100 percent of the population, while the second dose has been administered to 88 percent of the eligible population, he contended that there was no dearth of vaccine anywhere in the district. Booster doses were also being administered to frontline workers and all others eligible, he added.

COVID compensation

Referring to payment of compensation for families of COVID dead, Somashekar said that the process of compensating the family members of those who died of COVID-19 is under progress. A total of 1,665 families have received Rs.50,000 Union Government's compensation and the State Government will distribute Rs.1 lakh to 819 families, he added.

Drinking water supply

Underlining the measures for drinking water supply, Somashekar said that under the Jal Jeevan Mission, 5.15 lakh families in rural areas will receive piped drinking water and 73,561 families have already been covered under the scheme. Under MGNREGA, 2,167 water bodies will be revived, he said while noting that the scheme also helps in job generation in rural areas. So far, 547 lakes and other water bodies have been revived under the scheme, he added.

Referring to Pourakarmika housing, Somashekar said that 158 housing units were being constructed in the MCC limits for the benefit of permanent Pourakarmikas, for which Rs. 22.58 crore has been earmarked.

Stating that the Government has approved Rs.377.60 crore for taking up infrastructure development works in MUDA layouts as a one-time measure, Somashekar said that Cabinet clearance is being awaited for High-rise Group Housing project of MUDA under which 1,960 housing units will be constructed at a cost of Rs.452 crore. Under Swachh Bharat Mission, 256 Gram Panchayats in the district will receive funds towards infrastructure development for solid waste management, Somashekar added.

Solid waste management

Continuing, Somashekar said that three additional solid waste management plants have been approved within the MCC limits and civil works are going on for the plants at Kesare and Rayanakere. The project to clear legacy waste of over 3 lakh tonnes at Vidyaranyapuram was in the process of finalisation, he added. The Minister further said that the MCC has received Rs.150 crore under Mahatma Gandhi Nagar Vikas Yojana.

Highlighting the significance of R-Day celebrations, he said there should be good relations between the States in order to maintain Unity and Integrity of the Nation. But a few groups are trying to divide the Nation for selfish purposes, he regretted.

Earlier, the Minister reviewed the Parade presented by a contingent of various Police Units that included CAR, DAR, KSRP, RPF, CISF, Civil, Women Police, Mounted Police, Home Guards, Traffic Police etc. This time, the parade command was given in Kannada instead of English, as was the practice earlier.

Due to pandemic, the R-Day was barred for the general public and school children. Also, there were no cultural programmes.

On the occasion, Somashekar handed over the Chief Minister's Gold Medal to Accident-free KSRTC drivers — Ejaz Ahmed, Mahadeva, E. Sambegowda, V. Suresh, Somanna and B. Nagaraj (Posthumous).

MLAs Tanveer Sait, G.T. Devegowda and L. Nagendra, Mayor Sunanda Palanetra, Deputy Mayor Anwar Baig, Deputy Commissioner Dr. Bagadi Gautham, City Police Commissioner Dr. Chandragupta, MCC Commissioner G. City's Pramila Kunwar leads NCC Contingent at Delhi R-Day Parade

Mysuru, Jan. 27 (BCT)- It was a proud moment for Pramila Kunwar, a first year B.Sc. student at Maharani's College of Science in Mysuru, who commanded the NCC's marching contingent at the Republic Day (R-Day) Parade in New Delhi on Wednesday (Jan. 26). She was chosen among the cadets from all the 17 Directorates of NCC in the country.

Pramila is a Senior Under Officer (SUO) from 3 KAR Girls Battalion and made the cut to command the Senior Wing contingent of NCC. She is among the 54 NCC cadets selected from NCC Directorate of Karnataka and Goa for this year's Republic Day Parade.

Participating in the R-Day Parade in New Delhi is a matter of pride for all NCC cadets and Pramila's achievement is no mean feat as the entire nation was watching her march in front of President Ram Nath Kovind, Prime Minister Narendra Modi and hundreds of VVIPs.

Sheer hard work, dedication

Pramila Kunwar is the daughter of Pratap Singh Devki, who runs a tea stall on Kalidasa Road and home-maker Pushpa Kunwar. They are the residents of V.V. Mohalla. "She had put her heart and soul in NCC training since 2020 and has excelled in many NCC parades and events in Mysuru. But her prime focus was on achieving the pinnacle of NCC training, that is, Republic Day Camp in New Delhi," a communiqué from NCC Mysuru Group stated.

Pramila's family migrated to Mysuru in 2004 and she studied from Class I to X at Nirmala Convent before doing her PU at St Joseph's College. She had enrolled herself with Bharath Scouts and Guides in 2015 and had led the contingent during the 2018 Dasara procession and gave the guard of honour to the then Governor Vajubhai R. Vala and then Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa at the Torchlight Parade in Bannimantap.

Pramila has also won certificates of merit in international mathematics competitions and English grammar competitions. She has a hobby of numismatics and has actively participated as a COVID-19 warrior at Mysuru District War Room. Apart from academics, she is an excellent artist with painting skills. She is a good dancer and a guitarist too.

Pramila trained hard at her battalion and her institution to get selected to represent Karnataka and Goa Directorate's contingent at the Republic Day Camp this year. Her hard work and dedication resulted in her being selected to command the Senior Wing Contingent on Rajpath, which is a rare honour for any NCC cadet," the statement said.

Achievers all

In fact, the Republic Day Parade had a total of five girl cadets of Mysuru Group. The others were Corporal L. Suchitra, Cadet S. Priya from 13 KAR Battalion, Senior Under Officer Roshini Marian and Cadet S. Chaithra from 14 KAR Battalion.

"The true spirit of NCC 'Ankhon Mein Tej, Chehre Pe Muskaan' was on display when the cadets smartly saluted the Tricolour and the Supreme Commander of the Armed Forces — President of India Ram Nath Kovind — while marching on Rajpath and passing in front of the dais on Republic Day," according to the statement.

In all, 19 cadets from Mysuru represented NCC's Karnataka and Goa Directorate at the Republic Day Camp this year. Apart from the cadets, Mysuru Group's flag was kept flying high by Col. Manish Prasad, Officer Commanding, 14 KAR Battalion, who had been appointed as the Republic Day Camp Adjutant.

Mysuru Division carried 10.69 million passengers up to December 2021. The punctuality performance of passenger-carrying trains has seen significant improvement with Mail/Express trains running with more than 99 percent punctuality, he said.

With the aim of improving the mobility of the freight trains for better wagon turnaround, concerted drives were initiated. This has led to maintaining the average speed of freight trains in the last few months at 49.1 kmph.

Agarwal said that the highest priority is accorded for operational safety and the Division is firmly committed to observing all safety norms/protocols at all levels with zero tolerance for accidents. .

Four Level Crossings in the jurisdiction of the Division have been eliminated by constructing ROBs/RUBs and the work is in progress for achieving the target set for this year. Three Permanent Speed Restrictions (PSRs) have also been removed.

He said that safety drives and awareness camps to staff and passengers were also organised.

Has Mysuru gone Bengaluru way? – 7

Mysuru is already on Bengaluru way

By R. Chandra Prakash

Chandra Prakash

For the past forty-four years Star of Mysore has been keeping its readers abreast with every important event in Mysuru. Hence, a discerning reader can judge whether this iconic city has indeed gone Bengaluru way. However, for the sake of common convenience and to substantiate the hypothesis that Mysuru has 'already gone Bengaluru way', a brief analysis of the events is provided in this concluding part.

Neglected Heritage

On 16th December 2021, Star of Mysore carried a news headline titled "No end in sight on fate of Devaraja Market" and another headline on the very next day, 17th December 2021, "Over 9 years after tragedy, the fate of Lansdowne building still remains in suspense." City is not surprised because such news items about other iconic buildings being damaged or under precarious conditions keep appearing so very often. The Jayalakshmi Vilas Mansion (Manasagangothri), Motikhana Building, Old Palace Office buildings, Manoranjana Mahal, Rajendra Vilas Palace, Lalitha Mahal, Summer Palace, Attarakacheri building, Vani Vilasa Market building, Silver Jubilee Clock Tower, Gun House, Palace Horse Stable, Royal Burial Grounds and even the city's main Palace are in some state of despair.

Few iconic buildings like Palace Motor Garage, Chamundi Vihar Palace, several chateau-like houses on Lalitha Mahal road, Aane Karoti, sprawling Ele Thota or enchanting boulevards like Thandi Sadak or Lalitha Mahal road, Tipu's Palace on 100 feet road have all simply disappeared. Hardinge Circle has lost its iconic fountain.

Change is the rule of life. But change need not be at the cost of the heritage. It should be change with heritage. The heritage Parliament building will co-exist with the new Vista Complex.

Ironically, Mysuru has a Heritage Department with a Commissioner-level officer. But its functioning is not in public domain.

Damaged by Development

Several developmental projects have been executed in Mysuru during the past decades. Instead of developing, some of them have caused immense damage:

1. Makkaji Chowk: The heart of commercial activities of bygone era Makkaji Chowk is in total ruins. The Road linking Makkaji Chowk with Sayyaji Rao road is closed and the entire area is leased out to a private company for total re-development. MCC is incurring huge revenue loss to due to this blunder.

2. Town Hall: The iconic Town Hall has been fully devastated. Even after nearly ten years the multi-storey parking facility is 'under construction' and entire adjoining open field remains dug up resembling an ASI excavation. When this proposal was announced, a delegation consisting of this writer, eminent professionals such as Bapu Satyanarayana, Dr. S.G. Vombatkere and a few others had made spot inspection along with MCC officials and had expressed our serious concerns. Their assurances that the overall environs of the historic Town Hall will not be tampered with have proved to be false.

3. Raja Marga: It was a highly eulogised project to transform the city centre into Singapore! Even before the work got completed, the structures started to fall apart, tiles on the footpath peeled out, drainage covers collapsed and the contractor simply refused to complete the project. Today, Raja Marga and Makkaji Chowk projects are classic example of ham-handed project planning, wanton disregard for quality in public works and total lack of accountability of officers.

4. Road Widening: Repeated road widening, particularly within the heart of city, have reduced wide footpaths and road side trees have gone missing. In cases like Irwin road, it has totally changed the entire environs. Residential streets have become commercial streets. However, the experience world has been that road-widening to accommodate unending demand from automobiles is fully counter-productive. And despite repeated 'improvements' city roads are full of potholes.

5. Re-modelled City Bus Stand: The report on Transport and Traffic of Mysuru had recommended for shifting of KSRTC's City Bus Stand from K.R. Circle out of the city centre. Yet it is modernised and a bigger bus station has been developed at the same place! Consequently, today the traffic in city centre is chaotic.

6. Drinking Water Supply: JUSCO, a TATA company which had undertaken the rejuvenation of old drinking water supply network in more than half of the city got embroiled in legal dispute with MCC and left. TATAs are known for absolute honesty in business. Hence, reasons to suspect some foul play.

7. Abandoned Projects: Many projects have been undertaken at huge costs but abandoned. One example is the Solar Electric Panels put up in Cheluvamba Park at huge costs, promising total delinking from the electricity grid, huge savings to MCC. But within a couple of months system became non-operational and since lying in waste. MCC continues to shell out larger electricity bills. Twice water-harvesting system was introduced at huge costs in this park, but very soon totally non-functional. Park continues to suffer severe water shortage.

8. Chamundi Hill: Rs. 80 crore development projects at Chamundi Hill has endangered its ecological and spiritual sustainability. Now, there is clamour for getting more funds for further development! Even Goddess Chamundi, the patron deity of city, is helpless.

Polluted Lakes, Vanishing Vacant Spaces and Encroached Parks

Limited number of lakes remaining in and around the city, such as Karanji, Kukkarahalli, Lingambudhi, Thippayyanakere are severely polluted and their boundaries shrunk. Encroached Raja Kaluves are choking flow of fresh rain water, sewage lines of residential areas are illegally lead into them.

Vast vacant open spaces, unique to this city, have been occupied by new multiple massive buildings, depriving the city of its lung space. Town Hall, Kukkarahalli back waters lands on Valmiki road, open space behind the Government Guest House and P.K. Sanatorium are a few examples.

Parks are encroached, large buildings are built in them violating the laws. Their areas are getting reduced due to unscientific road expansions. Most of them are not maintained and are in precarious condition. People's Park is one glaring example.

Lost Cleanest City Tag

Solid Waste Management is in dol-drums. Construction debris is lying every where for want of a clear policy. So-called storm water drains have become the carriers of sewage water which are led to open spaces or lakes. Consequently, the city is unable to regain its respectable position in the national Clean City survey.

Rural Clusters and Slums

Despite being a well-planned city, certain clusters have remained much unchanged within the city. Instead of these getting fully merged with the city, more and more such clusters are getting added. There are many such highly congested places within well-planned residential layouts. Despite building many building complexes to relocate slums, newer slums are emerging all round the city.

One can write volumes to prove how Mysuru has lost its heritage and grandeur. But above examples are good enough for substantiating the hypothesis. Past was bad enough, future is staring at bigger challenges.

Challenges Ahead

Between 1970 and 2000, city's economy got a big boost due to Railway gauge conversion, track doubling and electrification between Mysuru and Bengaluru. Very soon the completion of Bengaluru-Mysuru 10-lane Economic Corridor will reduce journey time from 180-plus minutes to mere 90 minutes, opening up unprecedented economic boons to Mysuru.

However, already the ownerships of thousands of hectares of lands within the city limits are in legal tangles. MCC has long back stopped issuing Completion Reports [CRs] for (un)known reasons. Now it is planning to issue B-Khata. This will further endanger ownership rights. MUDA has approved thousands of private layouts all round the city. They lack proper sewage and solid waste disposal systems, clean drinking water supply and are not properly linked with roads among themselves. Bengaluru-like urban disaster is awaiting.

Jurisdictional conflicts/rivalry between bodies such as MCC, MUDA and Village Panchayats have been damaging the growth direction of the city. Chamundi Hill Village Panchayat is a good example. But, very recently the Government has created a few autonomous civic bodies [four Town Panchayats (TPs) - Bogadi, Srirampura, Kadakola and Ramanahalli; and one Hinkal City Municipal Council (CMC)] adjoining the city boundaries for 'upgrading the infrastructure of new areas without burdening the MCC'.

In conclusion, things are replicating Bengaluru way in every direction.

JSS Hospital successfully performs Living Donor Liver Transplantation

The doctors team that performed the Living Donor Liver Transplantation at JSS Hospital in city.

Mysuru, Jan. 27 - JSS Medical College and Hospital has achieved a milestone by performing living donor liver transplantation in a 22-year-old adult, who was suffering from cirrhosis of liver. This was disclosed by Dr. (Col.) M. Dayananda, Director, JSS Hospitals, at a press meet in city on Tuesday.

There are two types of liver transplantation — LDLT and DDLT. Living Donor Liver Transplantation (LDLT) is a type of liver transplantation wherein a part of the liver is taken from a healthy donor and transplanted into an individual with end stage liver disease. In DDLT, liver is taken from a brain-dead person and is then transplanted into a patient who requires liver transplantation.

The world's first liver transplantation was done in 1963 by Dr. T.E. Starzl. The first successful DDLT and LDLT in India was performed in 1998. Every year around 50,000 to 60,000 patients require liver transplant in India. However, due to lack of awareness about the available facilities, donor availability, less cadaveric (brain dead) organ donation in our country only about 2,000 patients undergo transplants annually.

At JSS Hospital in Mysuru, the 22-year-old patient was diagnosed as chronic liver disease with decompensation (jaundice and ascites - fluid in the abdomen) and underwent LDLT. Patient's mother (38 years) who is a healthy adult came forward to donate a part of her liver.

Multi-disciplinary team of JSS Hospital and organ transplantation team from BGS Gleneagles Global Hospital, Bengaluru, successfully performed LDLT on Dec. 17, 2021. The team was led by Dr. H.P. Nandeesh, Professor & Head, Department of Medical Gastroenterology, Gi surgery team by Dr. Mahesh Shetty, Hepato-biliary team of BGS Gleneagles Global Hospital by Dr. Mahesh Gopasetty, Dr. Sunil Shenvi, Dr. Ashish Shetty and Dr. Arun. Department of Gastroenterology and Hepatology at JSS Hospital was established in the year 1998 and is running DM (Medical Gastroenterology) course since 2012. Dr. H. Basavana Gowdappa, Principal, JSS Medical College and others were present at press meet.

Water seepage from KRS Dam

Officials told the MLA and the MP that as there will be an exponential demand for water in the coming years, a jackwell is being constructed to accommodate machines that have a capacity of 2,500 HP. A horizontal thrust of 1,000 MT is generated from eight motors when the machines are shut off.

A tie back system using rock anchoring is being used as per good practises in the construction industry to withstand the thrust. The jackwell and the pump house foundation are being built as per the latest technology and there is maximum use of iron beams and concrete, officials added.

After visiting the Hale Unduwadi project, Pratap Simha and G.T. Devegowda visited the Meghalapura water purification project that has a capacity to store 12.5 MLD. A chemical house is being constructed and land acquisition is pending for the rest of the works.

Pipes of various dimensions (1829 mm, 1422 mm and 1168 mm) have been purchased and stored. To ensure that the pipes last longer, for the first time cement mortar inner lining and brush outer grunting based on new hydraulic and pneumatic models are being used, officials explained.

Hale Unduwadi Project

"Scientists from the institute studied the project in depth and have made the recommendations. This would avoid future expenditure and also be economically viable apart from being a technically sound project," the MLA and MP reasoned. The IISc. scientists have made changes in the design of the project accordingly and have finalised the entire project design and requirements to cater to 900 MLD. This would be a permanent drinking water project to Mysuru and surrounding villages. As the root design has been changed to accommodate the pumping of 900 MLD water, the cost has now escalated to Rs. 590 crore from the existing Rs. 545 crore. "A proposal has already been submitted to the KUWSDB that has to approve the project," they added. Regarding the progress of the project, the visit revealed that the raft concreting works of the jackwell at Hale Unduwadi has been completed and mud is being excavated for the stilling basin.

Project contractor Kekada Nanda of Sree Subha Sales, Bengaluru, KUWSDB Executive Engineer V.L. Chandrappa, Director Satish, AEE Asif and others were present.

Virat, the elite black horse of President's Bodyguard, retires

President Ram Nath Kovind and Prime Minister Narendra Modi bidding farewell to Virat.

New Delhi, Jan. 27 (Agencies)- Virat, the President's Bodyguard (PBG) Commandant's black horse, retired from his years-long service after the 73rd Republic Day Parade here on Wednesday. Virat was awarded the Chief of the Army Staff Commendation on the eve of Army Day on Jan. 15. Virat is the first horse to receive the commendation for exceptional service and abilities.

In all, Virat took part in the Republic Day parades 13 times. President Ram Nath Kovind, Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Defence Minister Rajnath Singh patted and bid farewell to the magnificent horse after the parade. Virat has the distinction of escorting former Presidents of India as well as current President Ram Nath Kovind with grace and dignity in ceremonial parades.

Virat, a Hanoverian breed, was issued to the PBG on Sept. 12, 2000. He performed his duties as the Commandant's Charger for over a decade and awed spectators, including foreign dignitaries, with his trademark poise and confidence. From the beautiful arch of his neck right down to his graceful trot, to the wisdom in his eyes, Virat is a horse like no other. Virat has also been complimented by the President on a number of occasions for his stellar performance during mounted ceremonial events as well as equestrian events held on Rashtrapati Bhavan Divas.

The President's Bodyguard is the most elite regiment in the Indian Army, handpicked by height and heritage from a pool of thousands and bedecked in the finest regalia befitting their status.

The 200-strong cavalry unit has for centuries been assigned to India's uppermost VIPs, from British Viceroys to modern-day heads of State.

Colonel Bommanda Dheeraj Chengappa had participated as the Commandant of the President's Bodyguard (PBG) at the Republic Day Parades and Virat was the mount of PBG. Colonel Bommanda Dheeraj Chengappa hails from Ammathi in Kodagu and is the son of Bommanda Chengappa, a BSF veteran. Dheeraj was selected for the Army through the UPSC and lives in New Delhi with his wife and son. He graduated from Delhi University and then joined the Army.
